Shipcarvers of North America

BY M. V. BREWINGTON: a book about one of the vanishing arts of the sea. The vigorous carvings that ornamented sailing vessels provide a treasure-mine of marine folk art, not until now sufficiently documented. M. V. Brewington illustrates his authoritative book with 135 photographs and drawings, and includes a geographical index of all known shipcarvers of the United States and Canada, with discussion of their work and individual styles. $12.00

Colonial Vessels

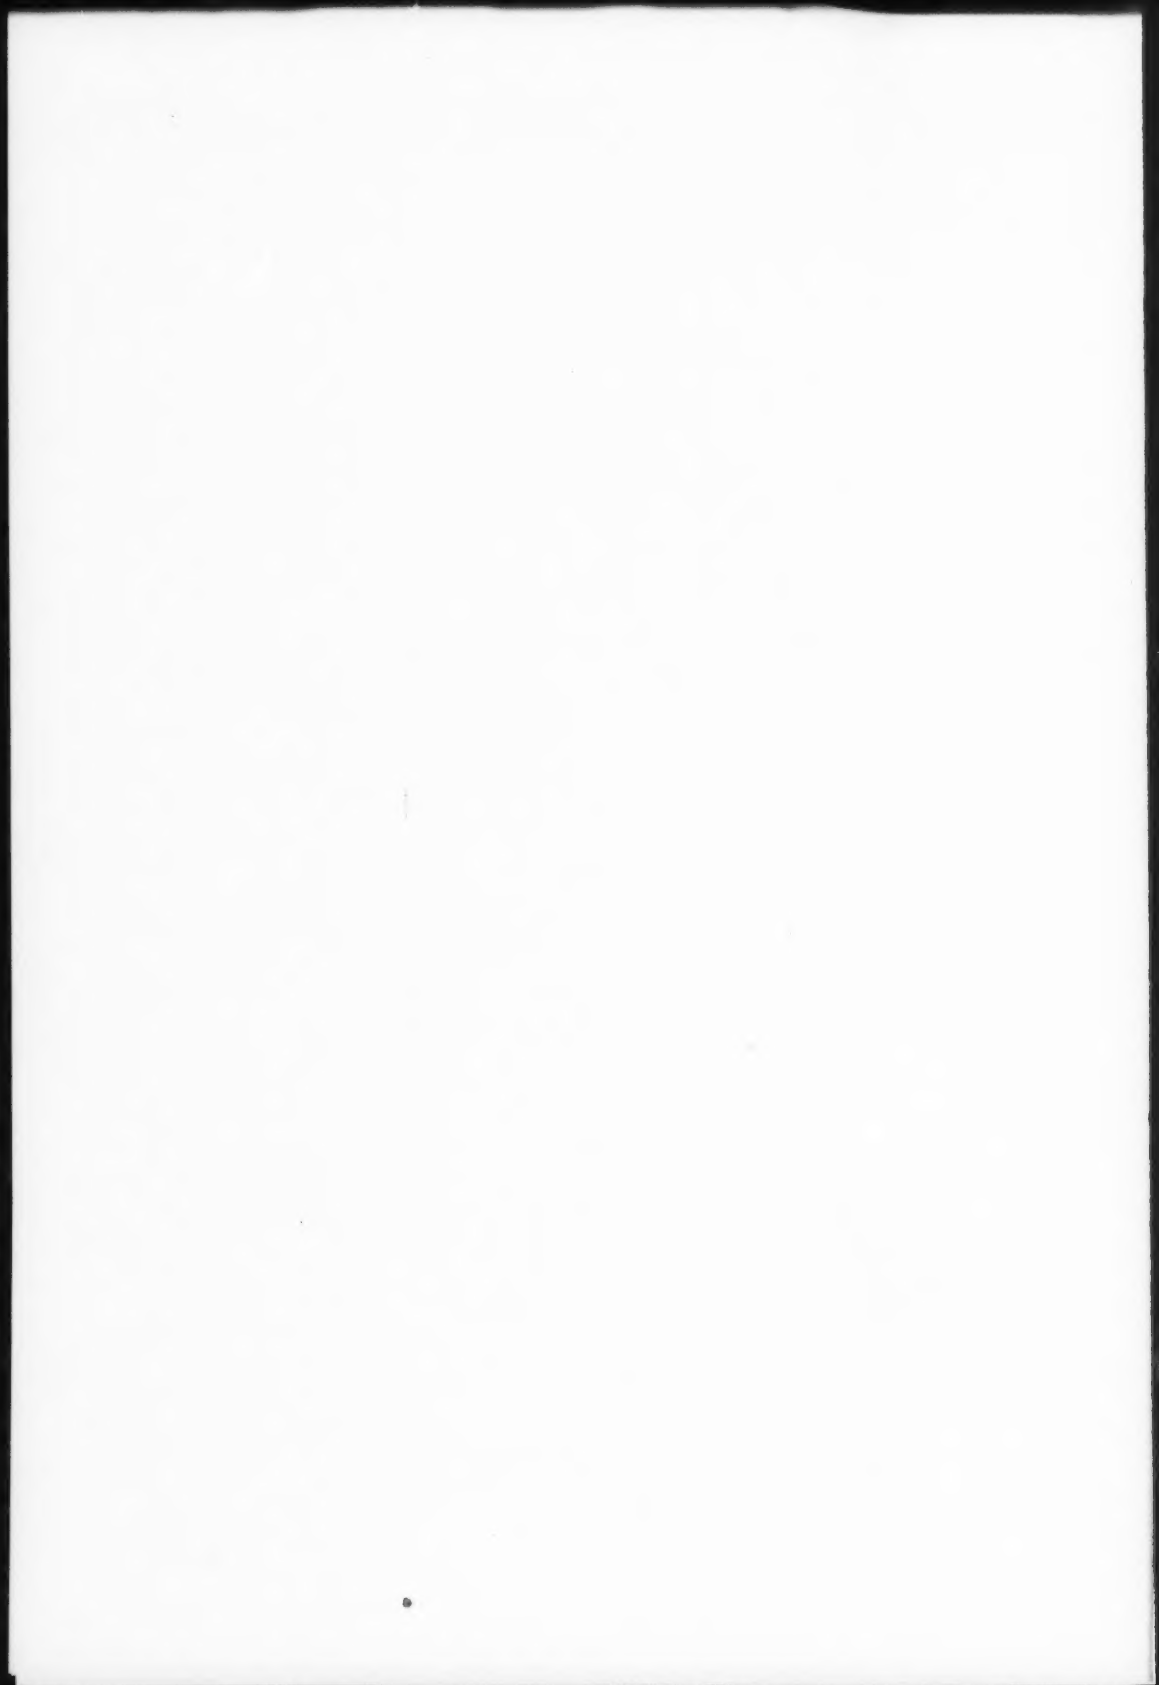

BY WILLIAM A. BAKER: here the designer of the Mayflower II describes naval architecture of the seventeenth century as it pertained to the seafaring life of the American colonies. The four craft which make up the major part of the book are the pinnace, the ketch, the shallop and the bark. The book is illustrated with line drawings by the author and three removable sheets of scaled plans for a Colonial bark, circa 1640, are attached to the back cover. $7.50
